Sample Texts: A Glimpse into the Ancient World

To offer a tantalizing glimpse into the Parallel Texts Edition, we present excerpts from various ancient texts, showcasing the diversity and richness of the collection:

Epic of Gilgamesh (Babylonian, c. 2100 BCE)

"He who has seen all, who has experienced everything, who has traversed all the lands, who has learned the wisdom of all the sages, who has unveiled the secrets of the gods, he is Gilgamesh, the king."

Book of the Dead (Egyptian, c. 1550 BCE)

Hieroglyphic text from the Book of the Dead, an ancient Egyptian funerary text.

"Oh, Osiris, lord of eternity, king of the gods, ruler of the underworld, I come to you with my heart pure and my hands clean. Grant me eternal life, free from all evil and suffering."

Code of Hammurabi (Babylonian, c. 1750 BCE)

"If a man has stolen an ox or a sheep, or an ass, or a pig, or a goat, whether from a god or from the palace, he shall pay thirtyfold. If he has stolen from a commoner, he shall pay tenfold."

Educational and Research Value: Unlocking the Past, Inspiring the Future

The Parallel Texts Edition serves as an invaluable educational and research tool for scholars, students, and anyone seeking a deeper understanding of ancient Near Eastern literature and history. It:
